

Which actors appeared in the most family-friendly movies featuring household pets?

Susan Davis leads the pack with a total of seven movies. Perhaps surprisingly, there were four actors not far behind with six movies each. That's a lot of cats and dogs!

What were the top 10 non-foreign movies rented in a foreign language and how do their rental prices compare to the overall average rental price of all movies?

Rental Price of Non-Foreign Movies Rented in a Foreign Language

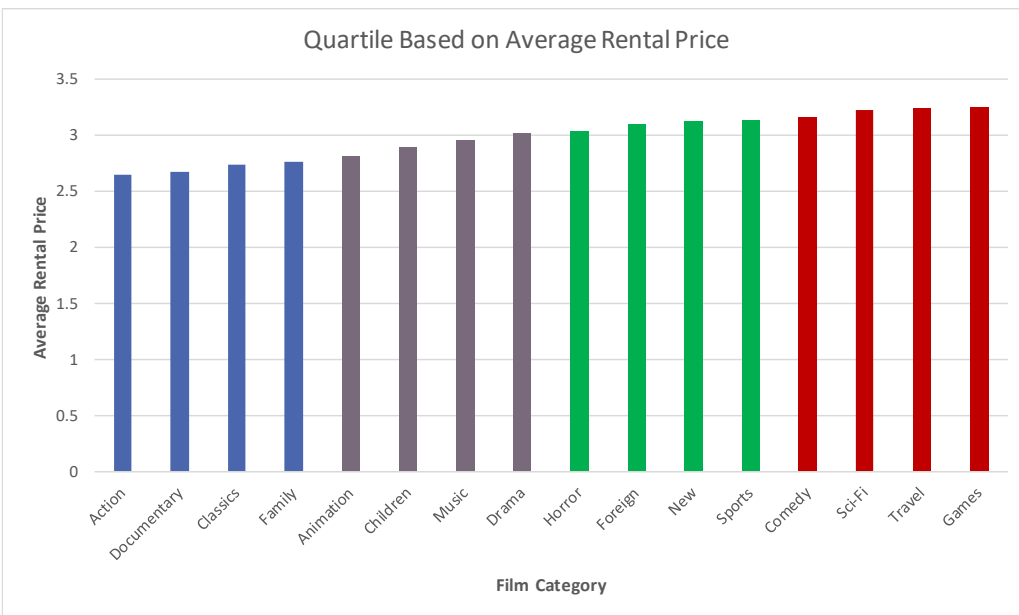

As we can see here, there is a wide range of rental prices across movies that are being rented in a foreign language. We can assume from this information that there is not only a diverse customer base, but that customers are interested in a variety of films regardless of price.

What is the average rental count of movies during the summer of 2005, divided by MPAA rating?

While PG-13-rated movies continue to be the most popular overall, NC-17 is the biggest surprise of the group taking second place. Movies rated PG or R take a close third and fourth place, respectively. With children being out of school during the summer months, one could reasonably assume that G-rated movies would be more popular, but as we can see here, this was not the case in 2005.

What is the quartile of each category based on rental price?

We can see that the Comedy, Sci-Fi, Travel, and Games categories are the most expensive to rent, while Action, Documentary, Classics, and Family are the least expensive to rent.
